

BOOKS printed for E. CAVE at St John's Gate.

THE GENERAL DICTIONARY Historical and Critical; in Ten Volumes Folio; containing, besides a compleat Translation of Mr Bayle's Dictionary, his Dissertations, &c. many additional Lives, a new and very large Index to the whole, an alphabetical List of the Articles, and a Chronological Table, which shews the Reader at one View who were contemporary, and enables him to pursue their Lives according to the Order of Time in which they flourished. The whole Work containing the History of the most illustrious Persons of all Ages and Nations, particularly those of Great Britain and Ireland.

By

The Rev. Mr John Peter Bernard, F. R. S.

The Rev. Mr Thomas Birch, A. M. F. R. S.

The late Mr George Sale,

Mr John Lockman; and other Hands.

N. B. The Observations and Corrections of the late Paris Edition of Bayle's Dictionary, and Reflections on the Passages which seem to favour Scepticism and the Manichee System, are inserted in their proper Places thro' the whole, but those as well as all other Additions, are always distinguished by proper Marks from what were written by Mr Bayle.

II. A Description of the Empire of China and Chinese Tartary, together with the Kingdoms of Korea and Tibet; containing the Geography and History (Natural as well as Civil) of those Countries.

Translated from the French of J. B. du Halde, Jesuit.

With Notes Geographical, Historical and Critical, and other Improvements, particularly in the Maps. In 2 Vols Folio, pr. 3*l.* 3*s.* bound.

N. B. The Paris Edition of this Work sells for 10*l.*

These Volumes are Illustrated with 205 Copper-Plate Representations and Maps.

III. The Nature and Laws of Chance, wherein the Subject is fully, yet concisely, handled; and the more abstruse and important Problems, as well as the more simple ones, are resolved in a general and conspicuous Manner; Containing the Doctrine of Combinations and Permutations clearly deduced: An Investigation of the Probability that a proposed Event happens a given Number of Times in a given Number of Tryals; a new and very comprehensive Problem of great Use in Lotteries, Cards, &c. with others for determining the Probability of Winning, whether at Bowls, Coits, Raffles, &c. in any Circumstance of the Play: A Problem for finding the Tryals wherein it may be undertaken that a proposed Event shall happen or fail a given Number of Times; another, to find the Chances for a given Number of Points with a given Number of Dice; and another on the Duration of Play, being three of the most curious and remarkable in the Subject, and all solved by new and general Methods. The Solution tion of a Problem propos'd to the Publick sometime ago, in Latin, as a very difficult one; with full and clear Investigations of the two new Problems added at the End of Mr de Moivre's last Edition, whose Demonstrations are there omitted; one of which Problems is allow'd, by that great Man himself, to be the most useful, as well as the most difficult in the whole Subject. 4to Price 3s.

IV. A Treatise of Artillery; or, of the Arms and Machines used in War since the Invention of Gunpowder. Written in French for the Use of Lewis Charles of Lorraine, Count de Brionne, and publish'd for the Instruction of the young Gentlemen in the Armies of France.

This Treatise explains the Compositions, Properties, and Use of Gunpowder; gives the different Sizes, Figures, Carriages, Charges, of Cannon, Mortars, and Pedreroes; with the Method of pointing, proving, and managing them; shews the Art of making and throwing Bombs, Carcasses, Cartouches, Grenadoes; the Manner of nailing-up Cannon, and how to remedy the widening of the Touch-Hole; establishes Rules for the Construction of Batteries, Mines and Counter-Mines, Pontons and Bridges, and of all the Engines and Fireworks used in the Attack and Defence of fortified Places. To render this Work universally useful, Geometry and Technical Terms are studiously avoided, and the whole suited to every Capacity.

V. A Treatise of the Attack of Fortified Places; containing Definitions, or Explications of the Terms used in a Siege; Maxims necessary to be observ'd in the Attack of fortify'd Places; Directions for constructing the Lines of Circumvallation and Contravallation, Trenches and Parallels, opening the Trenches, Saps, Sallies and Lodgments; for storming the Cover'd Way; for Descents of Ditches, taking Half-moons, Redoubts and Bastions: Attacks of Places cover'd by advanc'd Fosses, Lunettes, and other Outworks; of Hornworks, Crown-works, and Cavaliers; of Places surrounded by Fausse-brays, fortify'd with Tower-Bastions, situated in irregular Soils, Morasses, by great Rivers, maritime Places; how the Besiegers are to deal with an Army coming to raise the Siege; of raising a Siege; of the Attack of small Towns, Surprise of large Towns, Escalades, brusquing an Attack, and many other Particulars. By the Author of the preceding Treatise.

VI. The Differential Method: Or a Treatise concerning Summation and Interpolation of Infinite Series. By James Stirling, Esq; F.R.S. Translated into English, with the Author's Approbation. By Francis Holliday, Master of the Grammar Free School at Houghton Park, near Retford, Nottinghamshire. price 4s. stitch'd, in 4to.

VII. A Treatise of Conic Sections. Dedicated to the provost, fellows, and scholars of the college of Dublin. By Robert Steel. Re printed from the Dublin Edition. 4to price 2s. and 6d.

As this book has been recommended, by good judges, for one of the best, as well as plainest, in its kind, it is thought a more effectual service to the young student in these sciences could not be done, than to oblige him (the first impression being become very scarce) with a new, and much cheaper edition.

VIII. Travels into the Inland Parts of Africa; Containing a Description

scription of the several Nations for six hundred miles up the River Gambia; their Trade, Habits, Customs, Language, Manners, Religion and Government; the Power, Disposition and Characters of some Negro Princes; with a particular Account of Job Ben Solomon, a Pholey, who in the Year 1733 was in England, and known by the Name of the African. Being the Journal, &c. of Francis Moore, Factor several Years to the Royal African Company of England. To which he has added, Capt. Sribbs's Voyage up the Gambia in the Year 1723, to make Discoveries; and Observations on the Captain's Remarks and Conduct. Also an accurate Map of that River taken on the spot; and the Soundings for 500 Miles, by Mr John Leach; with ten more Copper Plates engraved by very good Hands, viz. Prospects and Plans of the African Company's Fort on James island, and of a Factory; a Draught of the strange Situation of a Pholey Town, Figures of uncommon Birds and Insects, Representation of a Negro Prince on Horseback, and of the Method of climbing the Palm-Tree to extract the Wine. The Author has likewise to compleat his Subject, given Extracts from the Nubian's Geography, Leo the African, and other Authors antient and modern, concerning the Niger Nile, or Gambia, and this Part of Africa, with Observations thereon; and a Vocabulary, English and Mundingó, the Language most used by the Negroes. The Work concludes with an Appendix, containing, 1. His Contract with the African Company. 2. Several Letters, Papers and Instructions relating to the Company's Commerce, particularly the Gum Trade. 3.
